

Membership

Membership is open to any individual with an interest in veterinary epidemiology and who chooses to register and attend an annual conference and the annual business meeting. Voting is restricted to residents of Canada with an interest in veterinary epidemiology who register and attend the annual conference and physically attend that annual business meeting which is held in association with the annual conference. There is no membership fee nor formal membership list for the association, but lists of registered attendees of the two most recent CAVEPM/ACEMPV conferences will be considered to be active members.
