

ANIMAL WELFARE IN PRACTICE WHALE STRANDING

SEPTEMBER 14-15, 2018

ATLANTIC VETERINARY COLLEGE
UNIVERSITY OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND
550 UNIVERSITY AVENUE
CHARLOTTETOWN, PEI
CANADA

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 14

ALEX H. MACKINNON AUDITORIUM, ROOM 242,
DON AND MARION MCDOUGALL HALL

7:00-8:30 PM (OPEN TO THE PUBLIC)

Food for thought: How we all kill whales

Dr. Michael Moore, Director, Marine Mammal Center at Woods Hole
Oceanographic Institution, Cape Cod, Massachusetts

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 15

LECTURE THEATRE A, AVC

9:00 AM

Clinical management of live cetaceans on the beach

Drs. Art Ortenburger and Pierre-Yves Daoust, Atlantic Veterinary College

10:00 AM

Complexities and logistics of dealing with live cetaceans in the field

Tonya Wimmer, Marine Animal Response Society, and Department of Biology, Dalhousie University, Halifax, Nova Scotia

11:00 AM

Sedation of whales at sea to enhance disentanglement operations

Dr. Michael Moore

LUNCH 12:00-1:00 PM

1:00 PM

Anthropogenic trauma in cetaceans: Diagnosis and solutions

Dr. Michael Moore

2:00-4:00 PM (AVC LARGE ANIMAL HOSPITAL ARENA)

Workshop: Staged live stranding response

REGISTRATION

Friday evening: no charge (all welcome!)

Saturday: students, no charge; all others $50
Lunch is included.
CE certificates will be provided.

To register: upej.ca/awc
or contact: animalwelfare@upej.ca

Registrations will be accepted until Tuesday, September 11.

Co-hosted by the Sir James Dunn Animal Welfare Centre and the AVC Animal Welfare; Exotics, Lab Animal and Wildlife; and Aquatics Clubs, with support from the Animal Welfare Foundation of Canada

SIR JAMES DUNN ANIMAL WELFARE CENTRE

PROMOTING ANIMAL WELFARE THROUGH RESEARCH, SERVICE, AND EDUCATION

UNIVERSITY of Prince Edward ISLAND

